

RELEVANT APPLICATIONS

Renewable energies

Elettrotec products are used in the most advanced renewable energy production plants. Wherever temperature and pressure control is required, such as in photovoltaic or wind power plants, Elettrotec offers a wide range of products essential for the monitoring and operation of green energy production systems. Our controllers are also involved in applications such as biogas plants, and therefore in the detection of pressure and level in the phase of anaerobic digestion of organic material.

